

COVID-19 Updates From Seal Rescue Ireland

With COVID-19 restrictions keeping our doors closed to the public, we couldn't wait until the end of the month to keep our friends and supporters in the loop! Although we must continue to stay apart to stay safe, digital communication is now more important than ever.

With June fast approaching we are preparing for common seal pupping season! As the beaches start opening again, we hope you will all be on the look out here in Ireland for any pups who look poorly. PLEASE REMEMBER: Maintain at least 100 m distance from a wild seal, and never get too close to a seal pup as it could cause the mother to abandon it. If you think a seal is in need of help, contact our rescue hotline straight away 087 1955 393!

We also have two exciting campaigns that we mentioned in our last newsletter that are now live! Read on to learn more!

Cloudberry T-Shirts are here!

For this week only, we have a limited edition Tshirt design created by Jamie Bran, an artist with a big love for seals and SRI! Many of you might recognise this adorable artwork as our beloved former Ringed Seal patient, Cloudberry! Better known as 'Princess Cloudberry', this little diva was released back in March and is now ruling the high seas, but if you would like to commemorate her while supporting SRI click the link below. There are lots of unique colours and styles to choose from, and $8 from every sale will go to support our work. Grab yours by the 18th of May or you'll miss your chance!
